

The country will be glad to learn that General Brady is done "starring" for the government. He was too expeditious, entirely.

The star route men will soon be conspicuous stars in criminal proceedings, shortly. The administration proposes to prosecute the ringsters, and it should bear down heavily.

The Senate should go into an executive session, and do a little business for the benefit of the country and then resume the war of words, for which the public has little concern just at present.

Mr. Conkling has not made a speech yet, but when he does there will be a good many vacant seats on the Democratic side of the Senate. They can stand almost anything but a speech from Conkling.

A gentleman who is very near to Mr. Conkling says the plumed Senator from New York has made up his mind never to set his foot in the White House during this administration. This will cause President Garfield to rest easy.

Washington newspaper correspondents still insist that President Garfield is rapidly changing, being less social than formerly and very much worried over the condition of things about the capitol. He doesn't seem to stand grief as well as Hayes and Grant. These men could leave their trouble in their boots at night and go to bed and rest, but Garfield hasn't got onto that yet.

The Milwaukee Republican corrects the statement of the Gazette and other papers in saying that Mr. Charles Luning, of Manitowish, a member of the new board of control, is a Democrat. The Republican says his status as a Republican is about as clearly defined as that of any man in the State. He used to be a member of the Republican State committee and in 1876 was a Republican elector.

It has been already stated in the Gazette that Fred Douglass would be appointed Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia, a position of much honor and considerable profit. The deputy Recorder is a white man of some pretensions, and now he threatens to resign if Fred Douglass is appointed. He should hasten to resign and stand not on the order of his going. If he doesn't want to serve under a "nigger" he should get out quickly.

Salvini, the great Italian tragedian, has closed his American engagement. He opened in Philadelphia on the 29th of last November. Since that time he has given between seventy and eighty performances, the gross receipts aggregating $166,000, and of this amount Salvini receives $55,000. It will be seen that the engagement has been financially quite successful, but as compared with the engagement of Bernhardt, the result is not so flattering.

The latest reports from Washington seem to indicate that Judge Robertson will be defeated in the Senate. The friends of Mr. Conkling will unite with him in voting against the confirmation of the judge, and the Democrats are so embittered against the administration that they will do anything to complicate matters at the White House. Both Senators from New York will vote against Robertson, and demanding the "senatorial courtesy," they will no doubt succeed in defeating him.

Ex-President Hayes began to feel that some one has been pulling the wool over his eyes in regard to the star service, and rumor has it that he has written to Washington naming several persons who deserve punishment. It is too late now for Mr. Hayes to take any action in this star route swindle. He should have demanded an investigation nearly a year and a half ago, when specimens of the frauds were published in the Congressional Record. That was a favorable opportunity for Mr. Hayes and his Postmaster General to make capital for the administration, and because they did not improve it, they will receive the censure of the public.

There is a deep sadness connected with the suicide on Saturday of Mr. John H. Minturn, of New York. He was a prominent merchant and a man of large wealth. For several years he had confined himself closely to his business which brought on delicate health. He spent some time in Europe with his family for recreation and in the mean time put himself under the best medical treatment on the continent. These did not seem to give him any substantial relief, and within a few months returned to his home in New York. He had all the comfort and elegance about him, but these did not afford comfort to the soul nor drive gloom from the mind, and on Saturday he took his life in his own hands by sending a bullet through his brain. He was only 43 years old, and was connected by marriage with some of the best families in New York city. He was a gentleman of fine literary taste, and some of the best artists of Europe contributed to his collection of paintings and statuary.

Those who think that much hard work cannot be done in the afternoon of life, should pause for a moment on the great achievement of Rev. Dr. Henry Cowles, of Oberlin, Ohio, father of the esteemed and accomplished superintendent of the State Institution for the education of the blind in Janesville, Mrs. Sarah C. Little. Seventeen years ago last August, when Dr. Cowles was sixty years of age, he began to write a commentary upon the Old and New Testament. It was an enormous task to begin at that age, for many commentators have spent a greater part of their vigorous life to such a work; but Dr. Cowles measured his strength and fully comprehended the mighty task before him. It seems that not hardly another man in the United States at the age of sixty could be found who would attempt to accomplish such a gigantic piece of work. But the commentary was commenced and finished! Dr. Cowles is nearly seventy-eight years old now, and the last volume of the great work—Matthew and Mark—was completed during the past winter and is issued from the press of D. Appleton & Co., New York. During these seventeen years of constant writing and laborious and painstaking work, he did not lose more than ten days, he tells us, on account of sickness. He is one of the most wonderful students of the day, and to Dr. Henry Cowles the readers of the Bible are placed under lasting obligations.

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS.

Action of the Republican Committee on Executive Session will Probably be Held Next Thursday.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The Republican committee called on the President yesterday for consultation relative to the course of the Senate on the various questions that just now vex that body. The President said that he was disposed to allow the Senators to manage things according to their own best judgment. He intimated, however, that he thought some confirmation should be made. As to Virginia, he was clear that the Mahone movement must be supported. The committee have been in session practically most of the time since they were appointed, and have finally reached an agreement upon most of the chief topics of discussion. Upon the question of holding executive sessions at all there was some division to begin with, though Dawes, Will, Sewall, Rollins, and Cameron, of Wisconsin, voted for the sessions to only two, Ingalls and Jones, against. The committee will, therefore, report to the caucus to-morrow affirming on that question. Upon the question of whose nominations should be considered there was more room for diversity of opinion. It was unanimously decided that the question of Robertson's confirmation would divide the Republicans, and under the plan laid down for action this was put on the black list. With respect to Chandler some of the committee held a similar view, but Rollins strenuously argued that no Republican would oppose his confirmation, and declared in favor of including him in the list of those available for action. In this, however, he failed to receive such support that the case was passed for the time being.

It was decided at the session Saturday to favor an executive session Thursday for consideration of the Chinese treaties, at which all the nominations will be referred to appropriate committees, and the harmony committee will have time for further consideration as to the advisability of taking up the disputed cases.

In the mean time it is the sense of the committee that the mass of the unimportant appointments that are creating such a howl of dissatisfaction may be as well rushed through, and the noise of the nominees stopped by the commencement of their salaries, which is believed to be the chief source of the patriotic anxiety lest the country suffer by the failure to turn out one set of officials and the installation of another. There are certain other confirmations where vacancies exist which, it is admitted, must be made, but the disputed cases will probably not be reached.

LE DUC'S TEA FARM.

The Pet Scheme of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The pet scheme of the commissioner of agriculture is now in a fair way of fruition, unless the official sends Le Duc's head into the basket meantime. A venerable gentleman named Henry A. Middleton, living about twenty miles from Charleston, S. C., believes with the commissioner that the tea plant can be successfully cultivated in the United States. No money has been appropriated for the purchase of land on which to establish a tea farm, but Mr. Middleton has leased to the commissioner a tract of 200 acres on his estate for twenty years in consideration of the sum of $1, duly paid in the standard silver coin of the republic, from Mr. Le Duc's own purse. An appropriate building for carrying out the experiment will be constructed, and John Jackson, who has been engaged in tea culture in India for sixteen years, will have charge of the plantation. About 17,500 tea plants will be set this spring, and the commissioner avers that in three years' time he will have as fine a crop of tea as ever was raised in the world.

ANOTHER COMET.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. May 1.—Prof. Lewis Swift, Director of the Astronomical Observatory of this city, this morning at 2 o'clock discovered a brilliant comet. This is the seventh comet Prof. Swift has discovered. In January last Mr. Warner offered a prize of $200 to any American astronomer for each and every original discovery of any comet during the year. Prof. Swift has been diligently searching the heavens, and is the first claimant for the prize this year. A year ago he received from the same generous patron of scientific discovery a prize of $500 for the discovery of a comet in 1880. Dr. Swift does not think this comet of any significance with reference to the oft-predicted end of the world this year in connection with perihelion conjectures, nor does he think the position and motion justify the belief that this is the comet of 1812. Prof. Proctor not long ago was credited with the prediction that the comet of 1812 would reappear this year and destroy the world in the next. Dr. Swift has no fears of such a result.

DAMNING THE DAM.

FOND DU LAC, April 30.—There was a public meeting here to-day of those flooded by the high water, which flood was increased by the closing of the gates in the Indian Ford dam by the Janesvillians. The meeting was harmonious, and much feeling was manifested favorable to summary measures to abate the nuisance. Your correspondent would not be surprised if some morning the dam was missing entirely. There are mysterious whisperings and some knowing winks among the initiated.

The water in Rock river has fallen ten inches in all, although slow, relieves our anxiety of further loss of bridges and buildings, and encourages those driven out of dwellings of a final return, where the flood has not destroyed them.

A CHANGE OF VENUE.

WAUPACA, Wis., April 30.—The suit for libel of Dr. Kempster, of the Northern Insane Hospital, near Oshkosh, against Dr. A. O. Wright, Secretary of the State Board of Charities and Reform, and which was to have been tried in Winnebago county, has been taken to this county on a change of venue. Therefore this noted case will come here for trial, probably at the next term of court, which commences at Waupaca, May 21.

THE STRIKERS.

MILWAUKEE, May 1.—Forty-two employees in the freight-shed of the Northern railway have signed a petition asking for an increase of 33 1/3 per cent in wages, and unless it is granted they will strike.

The printers are still out on the strike, and there seems to be no probability of the publishers and printers coming to an understanding. Nine of the strikers left for Chicago to-day.

THE MILWAUKEE DAM.

MILWAUKEE, May 1.—Capt. O'Connor and his brother, while rowing about the dam in the Milwaukee River north of the city this afternoon discovered that a serious break had occurred in the center of the dam, and there is every likelihood of the old structure yet being destroyed. In the event that it lets go serious damage will result.

SERIOUS BLAZE.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 1.—The Galloway Mills of T. S. Henry & Co. were destroyed by fire Saturday evening. The origin was a hot box. Loss from $20,000 to $25,000; insurance, $10,000 on mill, fixtures, and stock. The chances are that the mill will not be rebuilt.

Over 165,000 Howe Scales have been sold. Send for Catalogue to BORDEN, SELLECK & Co., General Agents, Chicago, Ill.

CHICAGO GOSSIP.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

CHICAGO, April 30.—A great amount of sickness was occasioned in this city the present week, from drinking our lake water, which was grossly contaminated for over ten days by river currents, which carried the city sewerage away out and beyond the lake crib. Winter cholera assumed its most virulent form in thousands of cases, and physicians had their time fully occupied in attending to their water-sick patients. The temperance work did not suffer, however, to any great extent by this state of affairs, but the earnest workers are battling bravely forward.

The superintendent of streets says he will have all the thoroughfares cleaned and in fine condition by the 24th of May. This may be so, but on enquiring of him in regard to the unclean alleyways he had nothing to say, with the exception that they would be attended to in good time. A boot finely polished in front but with heels and rear crevices full of mud does not present a very respectable appearance, and the character of the wearer is soon defined.

During the past three weeks the arrival of emigrants in Chicago have averaged 1,000 per day. Many Scotch families are amongst the number, but Germans predominate.

A new car company with a capital stock of $500,000 has just been organized. The sample car, for stock, was built in Nova Scotia. It carries sixteen head of cattle, with room to lie down, and they are fed and watered aboard the car. These cars are calculated to transfer cattle from the far West direct to New York without unloading. Chicago men have the matter in hand and will carry it out to completion. The one car now in the city has made successful trips.

Contagious diseases, during the present week, have increased to a rather alarming extent. Small pox cases have averaged ten daily, and of unusual virulence. Diphtheria and scarlet fever very severe in certain localities. The health department are using their utmost endeavors and best efforts for the public welfare.

Strikes are dying out in the city. Concessions are made on all sides, and an eye of prosperity is looked for in all the departments of trade.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

—Strawberries cultivated at Charleston, S. C., are expected to yield 1,000,000 quarts for the Northern markets from 250 acres of land.

—The use of gas as fuel enables the manufacturers of steel and glass in Pittsburgh to produce those articles far more cheaply than formerly.

—A tea plantation was established last year by Count d'Amigo upon his estates near Messina, Italy. The tea plant is said to thrive finely there, and its leaves are in no wise inferior to those of the Chinese plant.

Asphalt is considered by M. Leon Malo as chalk strongly impregnated with bitumen. It was first applied in road-making, in 1849, by M. Merian, a Swiss engineer. In 1854 it was first tried in Paris, in the Rue Bergere.

—Prof. J. Lawrence Smith, of Louisville, Ky., describes a new series of spordumene found in Alexandria County, North Carolina. The vein bearing it runs about due east and west, and dips about an angle of 70 degrees. He expects that further and more exhaustive exploration will result in the discovery of crystals having a commercial value as gems. This new variety he calls by the name of hidellite.

Concerning "applied science," Prof. Huxley recently remarked: "I often wish that this phrase had never been invented, for it suggests that there is a sort of scientific knowledge of direct practical use which can be studied apart from another sort of scientific knowledge which is of no practical utility, and which is termed 'pure science.' But there is no more complete fallacy than this. What people call applied science is nothing but the application of pure science to particular classes of problems."

—Prof. Fleeming Jenkin has stated that the following are the main conditions to be fulfilled in putting a house into good sanitary order: 1. The liquid refuse from the house must have a free passage to the town sewer. 2. The air from the town sewer must not have a free passage into the house drain. 3. No air or gas from the drainage channels of the house must enter the house. 4. No water or liquid must leak from those channels into the ground under the house. 5. The drinking water must be stored in such a manner as to run no risk of contamination. 6. The air of the dwelling-rooms must be supplied without contamination.

—Perfumers are aware of the curious fact that some of our sweetest and most delicately scented flowers are of no value for perfume. For example, no process has as yet been discovered by which the fragrance of sweet-brier and eglantine can be extracted and preserved, but a good imitation is produced by a compound of neroli oil, with alcoholic extracts of rose pomade and of orange flowers. Lily of the valley, which is likewise unavailable to the perfumer, is well imitated by a combination of vanilla, extract of tuberose, jasmine and otto of almonds. Lilies are little used in perfumery, their odors being too powerful.

A Queen's Robes.

A fashionable modiste of San Francisco had her parlors crowded one entire day with guests inspecting an outfit which she had just completed, per order, for Queen Kapiolani, the wife of King Kalakaua, of the Sandwich Islands. Among the many handsome robes was one which, intended for a grand state occasion, is made in the native style of the Hawaiian Islands, and is termed the "holuku." The design is the same as is known in the South, especially in New Orleans, as the "volante," the robe being in one piece and gathered into a deep yoke that covers the shoulders. The material is the very richest velvet, of a Marie Louise blue, striped with gold and combined with plain velvet of the same shade. Another was of embossed velvet, of the most delicate peach-pink shade, which constituted the train and corsage. This was over a petticoat of plain Turk satin, also peach-pink, and was richly embroidered with white jet. The half sleeves and high-rolling collar were of the satin, and thickly covered with jet embroidery. Handsome white jet ornaments fastened the corsage, which was parted in the front and back. The most beautiful of the lot, however, was a marine-blue satin combined with ermine satin, and finished with a heavy garniture of crimson-crushed robes. This gown was also made in the "holuku" style, with long, flowing sleeves open at the shoulders and extending nearly to the bottom of the gown, and were lined with crimson satin. Each suit had two pairs of slippers made of the same material as the dress they were to be worn with.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The new wife of the Czar is a young sister of the wife of General Albedynski, Governor of Warsaw. The Emperor Peter II., who was then only fifteen years old, was betrothed to a Princess Dolgorouki. He died a few months later, and the Princess was then banished to Siberia; she was, however, afterwards pardoned. The Dolgoroukis are a very numerous and, it may be added, a very ancient family, since they trace their descent from the Archangel Michael.

IT'S THE SAME THE WORLD OVER

The narrow, contracted, dark Clothing stores, with a different price for every customer, are the ones that do the business—if you take their word for it. Most of their suits are all wool—if you take their word for it. They give the lowest price, if you take their word for it and then you can get the goods for one half the amount if you dare to make the offer. As compared with such concerns in Janesville, our store is a Palace, but we charge nothing extra for goods on that account. Our assortment of Goods is three times greater than these Magic Lantern stores can show you, and it costs you nothing to see them. No wear and tear on your boots walking to the door to get a glimpse of the goods. We carry the best goods there are made in every department, and you can find them at no other store in the city.

We are the only firm in this part of the State that has all goods marked in plain figures with no deviation under any circumstances. These facts should merit the trade of all who have no axes to grind, if our prices are right, and that they are right and lower than can be found elsewhere in this vicinity; we shall demonstrate to your entire satisfaction in our next.

Ladies

Do you want a pure, blooming complexion? If so, a few applications of Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM will gratify you to your heart's content. It does away with sallowness, redness, pimples, blotches, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes a lady of THIRTY appear but TWENTY; and so natural, gradual, and perfect are its effects, that it is impossible to detect its application.
